Summary: 'Vidyasagar and Akshay Kumar Dutta were born in the Nineteenth century during the period of renaissance. Their progressive outlook about the reformation of society was reflected in their literature. Vidyasagar wanted to bring social reformation through female education in India. Akshay Kumar Dutta, the editor of 'Tattvabodhini' magazine, showed the poor condition of people in the hands of the Zamindars. He too had a progressive scientific outlook. The matter was vividly discussed by the speakers in the seminar.
